

1. Container = Your App + its Runtime Environment = Package = A running unit of a software.
2. Image = Template = Blueprint for containers.
3. Image contains code and tools to run code and setup instruction whereas container runs the code with those tools.
4. Container is running instance of an image.
5. Then multiple containers can be created based on this image.

Images vs Containers

One Image, Multiple Containers

